Respected Sir,

Karo Sambhav is a Central Pollution Control Board (CPCB) authorized Producer Responsibility Organization (PRO) which is building a cohesive e-waste movement to ensure collection and responsible recycling of Waste from Electronic Equipments (E-waste). Karo Sambhav collects and channelises e-waste for responsible recycling on behalf of producers like Apple, Dell, Vivo, Xiaomi, Cisco, Ericsson, HPE, Nokia, Oppo, Savex, Schneider, Supertron, Toshiba, TPV, Appario etc.

Under our Bulk Consumer Programme, we offer end-to-end support to organisation like yours to channelise/recycle the e-waste generated at your facilities as per the E- waste Rules with ease and joy. Any organization which has 20+ employees or a turnover of INR 1 Crore is classified as Bulk consumer and is mandated to comply with the E-waste Rules.

The E-waste Rules require Bulk Consumers (educational institutions, corporates, government departments, PSUs, banks, multinational organizations, international agencies, etc.) to:

- Channelize their e-waste through authorized and designated take back channels of producers
- Maintain records of e-waste and file annual e-waste returns to State Pollution Control Board

Our program offers various services at no cost to the Bulk Consumers:

- Collection, and responsible recycling of E-waste
- Development and management of compliance documentation
- Employee awareness and engagement workshops including providing information material
- Support for filling E-waste returns with State Pollution Control Board (SPCB)

Our country-wide grassroots programmes across all states have enabled a collection of 14,000+ Metric Tons of e-waste, and engagement with over 3 million people. You can know more about Karo Sambhav and its operations on the website: www.karosambhav.com.

Please find enclosed the quoted rates for each category of Waste of Electrical and Electronic Equipment (EEE) as per your request in the annexure below.

Looking forward to hearing from you.

Thanking you,
Warm Regards
